

September 15, 2011

Zucchini is served

*Oakville
celebrates 15
years of festival*

*By Scot Pearson
The Vidette*

OAKVILLE — Residents gathered at the Alfred "Al" J. Brant Municipal Park to celebrate the 15th Annual Zucchini Jubilee Saturday, Sept. 10.

The park filled with Oakville citizens as they took the day to honor the squash of choice, zucchini. The kids had several activities to partake in, including a pet parade, zucchini decorating, zucchini racing, a mini zucchini golf course, a coin jumble and of course water guns.

Across the street, J&J Solutions provided a smoked salmon dinner prepared on site, and the community leaders dedicated the new basketball court with free hotdogs and drinks.

Scot Pearson | The Vidette

One of the youngest to find her way to the Oakville Zucchini Jubilee, 1-year-old Courtney Brumbeck advises her grandpa, Jerry Dorch, as to the reasons she has chosen this squash as one of the better ones on display.

The adults took part in items made from the squash in the form of cakes, cookies, breads, a casserole and even an offering of fried zucchini by the Friends of the Library served at the American Legion Hall.

The local Timberland library branch also brought awareness to new plans of re-vitalizing an unused part of the school as a library and community center that will start in October.

Zucchini is served

*Oakville
celebrates 15
years of festival*

*By Scot Pearson
The Vidette*

OAKVILLE — Residents gathered at the Alfred “Al” J. Brant Municipal Park to celebrate the 15th Annual Zucchini Jubilee Saturday, Sept. 10.

The park filled with Oakville citizens as they took the day to honor the squash of choice, zucchini. The kids had several activities to partake in, including a pet parade, zucchini decorating, zucchini racing, a mini zucchini golf course, a coin jumble and of course water guns.

Across the street, J&J Solutions provided a smoked salmon dinner prepared on site, and the community leaders dedicated the new basketball court with free hotdogs and drinks.

Scot Pearson | The Vidette

One of the youngest to find her way to the Oakville Zucchini Jubilee, 1-year-old Courtney Brumbeck advises her grandpa, Jerry Dorch, as to the reasons she has chosen this squash as one of the better ones on display.

The adults took part in items made from the squash in the form of cakes, cookies, breads, a casserole and even an offering of fried zucchini by the Friends of the Library served at the American Legion Hall.

The local Timberland library branch also brought awareness to new plans of re-vitalizing an unused part of the school as a library and community center that will start in October.